To whom it may concern at the FCC:

The actions taken by the National Association of Broadcasters (NAB) demonstrate that when it comes down to it, big corporations would rather use lobbyists and money to try to stifle competition in the marketplace than improve their own services. The fact of the matter is, XM Radio offers traffic and weather reporting services that by far surpass local radio and I, as a citizen of this country, have a right to those services. No one is forcing me to listen to XM Radio's services - I choose to do so because local radio does not provide me with the services and choices that I need. Please vote to reject the NAB's petition 04-160 - it stifles first amendment rights and shows that the NAB is simply not up to competing!
